

Bishop To Be Honored In Assembly

By Duane Schroeder

Bishop Herman Dietzfelbinger, president of the Seminary of the Bavarian Church, will be given an honorary doctor of divinity degree by Wartburg College at Thursday's convocation.

Dietzfelbinger, noted lecturer and author, has been in this country for the recent Lutheran World Assembly in Minneapolis this past summer. He will deliver a lecture to the student body at convo.

Dr. William F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will speak on the recent Lutheran World Federation Assembly at Tuesday's convocation.

BAVARIAN BORN. Born in 1908 at Ermsershausen, Lower Franconia, Dietzfelbinger grew up near Nuremberg. He attended the Universities of Erlangen, Tuebingen and Griefswald after graduating from the Alte Gymnasium in Nuremberg in 1927.

After attending the seminary in Munich, he accepted a call as pastor in Lower Franconia in 1935. He served as temporary president of the Seminary in Nuremberg from the fall of 1939 to 1940, and after World War II he became president of the Bavarian Seminary.

OUTSIDE LEADER. Since 1945 Dietzfelbinger has assumed duties outside this position with the Bible Institute Stein and the Future Teachers of Nuremberg.

In 1949 he was elected to the presidency of the Fraternal Council of Bavarian Pastors, which was founded during the struggle of the church with the Nazis.

He was a key figure in the recent reorganization of the Bavarian Regional Synod in the Evangelical Church in Germany. In 1953 the bishop became the head of the Deaconess Home in Neuendettelsau.

ELECTED IN '55. In 1955 Dietzfelbinger was elected Landesbishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bavaria by the Bavarian Regional Synod, and a year later he was given an honorary doctor of theology degree by the Theological Faculty of the University of Erlangen.

Dietzfelbinger was married in 1935 and has a family of seven children.

Lecture appearances at the General Synod in Hannover and at the Called Synod of the Evangelical Church in Berlin, Germany, has brought international prominence as a lecturer to the theologian.

Among his many publications are The Christian Creed in Catechetical Instruction; He Followed His Path Joyfully; God's Road to the Cross in the Old Testament; The Problem of the Diaconate; and Freedom to Unite.

Freshman Musician Scholarship Winner

Mary Ann Thompson, freshman, is winner of the Diamond Jubilee Music scholarship this year, according to an announcement made last night by Dr. Edwin Liemohn, head of the Music Department.

Miss Thompson, Sterling, Neb., received the award, open to freshmen only, on the basis of her performance on the organ. Auditions for the scholarship were held yesterday.

Amount of the award, established in 1943, is equal to the cost of one private lesson per week for one semester and is applied to the second semester's tuition.

Library Gets Books; Ford Gives $33,000

Philanthropy played an important part in the expansion of the college library and in the development of teachers' salaries this past summer.

An extra $33,000 was added to the original $163,000 Ford Foundation grant which Wartburg received last year. This grant is a portion of the 260 million dollars voted by the Ford Foundation to 630 privately supported universities and colleges in the United States.

The income from an endowment fund, to which the grant has been applied, will be used to augment faculty salaries. After 10 years the principal may be used for either more salary support or any academic purpose.

Dr. Walter H. Seeger, Detroit, sent three hundred more volumes to the Wartburg library in July to raise the total of books he has given to the college to more than fifteen hundred. Dr. Seeger, a former Wartburg student, has been sending books to the library for three years.

A gift of a 10-volume pictorial history of the Civil War was also given the library by Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, Wartburg History Department, in July.

Seminar Set

KWAR-FM, campus radio station, is holding tryouts for personnel today, in connection with its annual seminar. All interested persons, regardless of past experience, are welcome, according to Bruce Friedrich, station manager.

"The tryouts are for the purpose of placing individuals, not for elimination," stated Friedrich.

Organizational and orientation meetings were held Thursday and Friday. The training program will begin Monday and run through the week. A tentative "on the air" date has been set as Sept. 16.

NOT MOLE HILLS

By Joan Pape

Something new has been added! Besides new faces and new buildings on campus, another change has been made. This change is a private switchboard for Wartburg College, which will eliminate the necessity of a local operator for campus calls.

The new switchboard, called a PBX board among telephone people, will be located in a separate room in the new Centennial Hall wing. It will be operated by either the house-mother or by a resident of Centennial Hall.

SWITCH OFF. The switchboard now in use will be disconnected. Presently the board is located in the business office in Luther Hall and is operated by the secretary of Herb Engelbrecht, business manager of the college.

Although most of the equipment has already been installed, the new system will not go into use for a month or more. All

Ten Join College Family

NEW FACULTY and staff members chat after Thursday's convo. They are Jewell, Lestrud, Mrs. Kronquist, Tiempo, Miss Knief, Mrs. Campbell, Miss Anders, Kay and Ryder.

More Expansion - Three On Staff, Seven Faculty

By Irmgard Feldmann

Nine new staff members were introduced to the Student Body during Tuesday's convocation. A 10th addition, Fred Thompson, admissions counselor, was unable to attend the assembly. Of the nine introduced to the Student Body, seven were faculty members.

Piano instructor Mary E. Anders received her B.M. degree majoring in piano from De Pauw University. She also attended Eastman School of Music before receiving her master's degree from Northwestern last June. She has taught at Berea College, Berea, Kentucky.

Holding a bachelor's degree from Northland College, Ashland, Wis., and a master's degree from New Mexico Highlands University, John W. Jewell is instructor of biology and chemistry. He taught in several high schools in New Mexico before working toward a doctor's degree at the University of Minnesota.

KAY HISTORIAN. Thomas O. Kay, who received his B.A. from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and later taught there, is the new history and political science instructor. After procuring his M.A. in December, 1954, from the University of Chicago, he has been working toward his Ph.D. at the same school.

A resident of Waverly, Dr. Lotus Knief, is assistant professor of psychology. She received her B.A. from Wartburg where she graduated summa cum laude. Dr. Knief holds both an M.A. and a Ph.D. from the State University of Iowa. She was co-author of the article, "Organismic Age Concept," which appeared in the Journal of Educational Psychology.

Speech and drama instructor Vernon A.C. Lestrud graduated from Pacific Lutheran College in 1953. After graduation he was drafted into the army and sent to Europe, where he was assigned to the Seventh Army Special Services. Later he received his B.A. and M.A. in drama from the University of Washington.

PH.D. CANDIDATE. Currently a candidate for his Ph.D. in Wild Life Management, minor-ing in zoology at Utah State College, Logan, Utah, where he was research assistant, Ronald A. Ryder received his B.S. and M.S. from Colorado A & M College in 1949 and 1951, respectively. He was selected to Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honorary fraternity; Xi Sigma Phi, forestry honorary fraternity; and Tri-Beta, biology honorary.

He held a fellowship at Colorado A & M for two years. Civilian experience includes Waterfowl Biologist for the Colorado Game and Fish Department. He has served in the U.S. Navy and now holds the rank of lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

Fun Symphony Tomorrow

It's a "Symphony of Fun" and it's free. The Wartburg-Community Symphony's annual variety show, supper and concert will be held tomorrow beginning at 4:30 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium with Ernest Hagen of the Wartburg Music Department directing.

Two concerts, a children's at 4:30 and an adults' at 7, will be featured. At 5:30, Waverly service clubs will sell supper in front of the gym. During the meal a variety show will be presented.

Featured soloists for the day will be Carole Bradford, Cedar Rapids singer, and an 11-year-old pianist, Charles Tweed, Toledo.

"We especially want all students and faculty members to attend," stated Hagen. "I'm sure they'll find it a pleasant evening."

HEY!

Interested in the Trumpet? If you are, here's your chance. The first meeting of the year is scheduled for Monday evening in Room 207, Luther Hall, at 7 p.m.

Anyone interested in any aspect of the Trumpet—writing, advertising, circulation, photography—is urged to attend, according to Harold Kurtz, editor in chief.

Campus System Near

"NUMBER PLEASE" says soph Joan Foster as she demonstrates the new campus telephone system.

of the cable for the system has been laid, which explains the "mole hills" that most "campus cutters" are tripping over. The new system will eliminate many problems. First of all, there will be only one number for people calling Wartburg College, rather than the 34 now listed. To call the college, one will simply ask for number 1404, thus reaching the college operator, who will ring the college number. All office and residence phones will be included in the system.

MORE PHONES. New phones to be used under this system are now being installed. These new phones, of which there will be about 80, will be dial phones, so that it will be easy to transfer to the dial system when the community goes dial. Some intra-campus calls will also be able to be made by dial with no operator needed.

An interesting sidelight to this is the feeling of the Waverly operators toward the new college switchboard. According to one, the new system will be the "biggest time-saver for us since the telephone was invented." Undoubtedly many college people will feel this way too.

Suddenly It's September

And suddenly it's September. Summer jobs are a matter of historical record. Vacation woes and wiles are now nothing more than bull session material. Loud hellos and exuberant recollections are the diet for the upperclassmen.

Among the newcomers there's a spirit of optimism as introductions are given and the process of becoming acquainted with these halls of Wartburg is made. It's all part of a new school year.

Today marks the appearance of Issue Number One of the Wartburg Trumpet for the 1957-58 school year. This Saturday and for 29 more Saturdays, the Student Voice will be making its presence known on the campus.

The purposes of the Trumpet as stated in the policies of the Wartburg College Student Publications are to inform; to publicize; to entertain; to promote Wartburg College; and to serve as a journalistic workshop.

If the Trumpet is to look forward to a successful year, all of these objectives must be taken into consideration, so that a proper balance may be maintained among these points. Over- or under emphasis on any one point must be avoided.

As a news organ, this paper will attempt to provide the latest and most accurate accounts of campus happenings that it is humanly possible to provide. Errors will be made — not intentionally, of course, but human nature almost dictates it.

As a source of publicity, the Trumpet will attempt to give campus groups as much coverage as space limitations will allow. Entertainment will also be featured in keeping with the ideals of Wartburg College.

Public relations objectives will be remembered as well as the duty to both the students and the administration. Journalistic objectives will also receive consideration.

When it says "Voice of the Knights" on the nameplate, it means exactly that. The Trumpet will be the voice of the Knights — all the Knights.

From time to time during the coming year, the entire editorial section will be thrown open for reader participation and debate on issues affecting the Student Body. Letters to the editor will always be given consideration, provided that they are signed.

So that's it for today. Be seeing you every Saturday.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Soph President Explains Policy On Squire Days

To The Editor

"What? No initiation?"

Hold on, upperclassmen, a new idea has been added, and we think you'll like it. Members of this year's freshman class will experience "Squire Days" as their informal welcome into the Wartburg family.

The new idea is based on the medieval conception that in order to become a knight, one must perform various deeds of valor and courage to prove his worthiness. During this period of training, he is known as a Squire.

With this new idea, we hope to develop a new attitude, not a new tradition. In the past, opinions on the practice of initiating incoming freshmen were quite divided. So after much discussion, the committee on Squire Days decided that the purpose of initiation was good, but the attitude of many students wasn't in keeping with that purpose.

In order to unite the freshmen as a class with the Student Body as a whole, "Squire Days" have been set aside as a time for the upperclassmen to display an attitude of friendliness toward the frosh rather than one of revenge. You'll find within the next few days, that the program is similar to the old one.

Now that you are familiar with the idea, we are asking your individual cooperation in making this program a success. "Squire Days" are your chance to get acquainted with the future of Wartburg College.

Sophomore Class President

Assembly Makes Impact

(Ed. note: This column will appear regularly in the Trumpet throughout the school year. Different writers will be featured on a variety of religious subjects. Chi Rho, pre-theological society, through its co-ordinator Dennis Dickman, is in charge of this feature.)

By Bob Hannemann

Out of the planning, praying and thinking together of the delegates from the Lutheran congregations of the world at the Lutheran World Federation Assembly in Minneapolis have evolved statements, the full import of which can not yet be realized. From the five sub-topics, variations on the main theme, "Christ Frees and Unites," Dr. Carl Lund-Quist, executive secretary of the LWF, last week reviewed at the National Lutheran Student Association Ashram the sub-topic, "Christ Frees for Service in the World."

Dr. Lund-Quist touched upon and illustrated the main points in the thesis that was developed from the discussion of this sub-topic. First of all, he stated that we must not fail to use intelligence, prayer and constructive steps in gaining social, political and economic justice.

Secondly, the church may not affiliate itself with any one system of government. There must be a terrific challenge in not fleeing from East Germany and Russia as we might expect the Christians to do. However, even though these countries are under such anti-Christian domination, many do not leave because they know that that is where they have to serve. The well-known Bishops Ordass and Dibelius serve as open examples of this, but there are also countless unknown laymen who are probably no less courageous.

Thirdly, we might truly begin to wonder if Christ really frees for service in the world. What about the downtrodden races of the world who are certainly not free but, out of compulsion, have had to serve so-called "superior" men?

Our pity is stirred when we think of the many Jews whose dead bodies were turned into soap by the Nazis, but, on the other hand, do we rejoice in thinking of the outcome of the integration of the American Negro? Any country with racial problems likes to "pass the buck," but are we ready to show the love and forgiveness of Christ to our neighbor?

Fourthly, we are made free to serve in the world through the church. The church, body of the true believers in Christ, must remain the means by which the gospel is preached and spread. Dr. Lund-Quist in his travels once talked with an East German youth. "Why hasn't America come to deliver us from this oppression?" said the youth. In answer he was told that such an action would mean World War III.

"True," the youth replied, "but do you realize how much we have actually prayed for war? Is that not better than to have to compromise or deny one's faith in Christ in order that physical needs might be satisfied?"

To this Dr. Lund-Quist stated that the price would be too great and that only prayer and trust in God would support them in their difficulties.

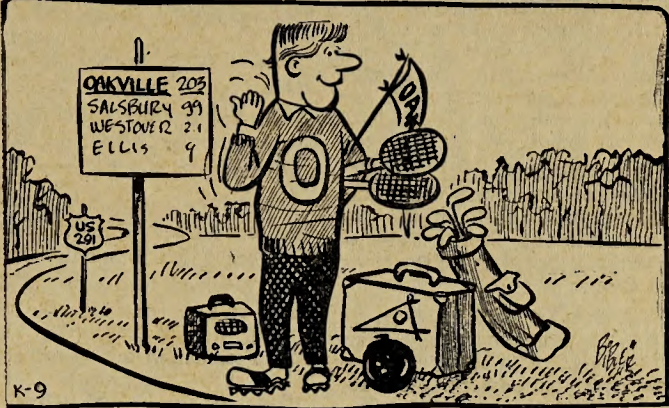

Finally, even though we would like to see such conditions change, there are things which love itself can not even seem to penetrate. The old cry, "O Lord, why do the ungodly prosper?" ever rings out. Faith at such a point is really put to the test. Therefore, we can only continue to express a love which does not ask for results. We may try hard to achieve peace and unity, but it is Christ alone who frees and unites.

The President Speaks

A MESSAGE FROM DR. C. H. BECKER

The faculty, staff and the administration of Wartburg College extend hearty greetings and a most cordial welcome to you eight hundred young men and women who are enrolled at Wartburg for the school year 1957-'58. We pray for you a rich measure of God's abundant blessings, His guidance and protection. May the coming year be for you a year of "growth in wisdom, in stature, and in favor with God and man."

Extensive preparations have been made by the college for the new school year. Exceptionally well-qualified members have been added to the faculty and staff. Many added physical facilities should help to make your stay at Wartburg more enjoyable and profitable. For the first time in many years all the girls are housed in college dormitories, and quite a few more men are housed on the campus.

Let us all, students, faculty and staff, in the spirit of mutual confidence and helpfulness and with faith in God, determine that the school year 1957-'58 shall be the most successful in the history of Wartburg College.

KNIGHT BEAT

by Bob Loslo

I started the new school year right again by handing in my copy late. Boy editor Harold Kurtz said, "What's the matter? You had three months from which to draw material." That may be. But unless you want a full column treatise on how to trim lettuce, there is not too much that can be said about the summer.

Three years of college education, and I spend the summer trimming lettuce. Now I know how the Wartburg professors feel knowing that they make less than a ditch digger with a grade school education.

There's a line from "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" that might be applicable to the subject at hand: "But he overcame his education, anyhow, and became a success."

I should live so well. I saw "Sweet Smell of Success" this summer too. Burt Lancaster runs through the entire picture having people beg him to put their column material in the paper. I have to run around begging for people to give me column material.

The dream ratio is finally about to come about. The freshman girls outnumber the freshman boys this year. If this continues, year after year, it will make the fellows happy, but there won't be enough eligible future ministers to go around. Now don't tell me you girls came here for an education.

After two years of column writing, a person runs out of things to say about freshman initiation. So good luck — ALMOST everyone lives through the first four weeks.

Hoo hah, egg sandwich lovers all over Waverly: Roy's Place has been remodeled — new chairs, new floor, new windows and a new paint job. But Roy's still maintains one important aspect — the charming help who tenderly lean over the counter and say, "Wha dya want?"

For the first time in three years the Trumpet has a female columnist. Kathi Frenz will join Knight Beat and Whirled Affairs in the desperate Wednesday night brain-racking for material.

Religious-Med. Meet Attracts Over 200

More than two hundred clergymen and physicians crowded onto the Wartburg College campus Aug. 28, 29 to discuss the necessity of cooperation between the two professions.

"The Healing Team" was the theme of the conference, which was jointly organized and sponsored by Wartburg and the Rohlf Memorial Clinic.

Dr. Russell Dicks, Duke University, Durham, N.C., was coordinator of the conference. Dr. William Hulme, Wartburg Seminary, and Dr. William Bean, Miss Marie Tener, Dr. Robert Tidrick and the Rev. Lloyd Bartholomew, all of the State University of Iowa Hospitals, were featured on the program as speakers.

It Figures

Enrollment now stands at 825. This includes all part-time and special students in addition to the regularly classified students. Of this number, 483 are upperclassmen and 342 are freshmen.

Final figures are not available and will not be known until registration is completed.

Let's Meet Friends

By Kathi

Hi!

Just like the new faces on campus, something new has been added to the Trumpet. This column is intended to help you busy students find more things to do.

A look around finds Pres. Kay Fritchel busy planning the first meeting of the Student Education Association. In case you are wondering, SEA is taking the place of the Future Teachers of America, and, naturally, all future teachers are invited. The meeting is being held at 7 p.m. Monday in the choir room of the Fine Arts Center.

Achtung! Or is it gesundheit? Anyway you put it, Hans Sachs still meets in Old Main at 7:30. That's Tuesday night, whether you're German or not.

We all like to get our annual at the end of the year, but did you ever think of the fact that someone has to compile it? Len Flachman, this year's editor, wants compilers. He is looking for pastors (not pastors this time), cutters, typists — anything you can name to help. Thursday at 7 p.m. anyone fitting the above descriptions is invited to come to the Fortress office in the Pub House for the organizational meeting. Strictly between you and me, it's as much fun (maybe more) as it is work.

Sunday finds the pre-thes and parish workers busy, as Chi Rho and Phebes both meet that day. Chi Rho meets at 1:30 in the Choral Room, Fine Arts. Incidentally, fellows, Chi Rho meets with Phebes on occasion.

Phebes meet at 2 in the library reading room. I hear a skit will be presented. I don't know who the actors are, but it sounds interesting. Pres. Virginia Grimm let us in on a secret — the constitution will not be read!

Fellows can skip this paragraph.

The big social event of the week is Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 when Pi Sigma holds its annual Get-Acquainted Tea. "Big Sisters" will take their "Little Sisters." Come along to Centennial Hall Lounge if you have a "Big Sis" or not—the point is to make friends.

The curtain opens Thursday at 7:30 p.m. for Wartburg Players' annual welcome meeting. New members will be shown around the Little Theater and told about the year's program. Let's all come out to meet the new director, Vernon Lestrud, and help make his first year with us a success. Oh, yes, refreshments will be served.

Well, that's all the "busyness" for this week. Bye.

Campus Gets Face-Lifting

Disappearing roads, campus digging, completion of one dorm, the start of another — these and other changes were noted by students upon their arrival at Wartburg as the college continues its 12-year program of expansion.

Upon completion of Centennial Hall, Henkel Construction moved west one block and began work on the new men's dorm.

Additional shower facilities, painting and polished floors were featured as improvements in Wartburg Hall. Grossmann Hall received a new coat of paint on its walls and varnish on some of the tramways.

The road between Centennial Hall and President C. H. Becker's home has been taken out and a turn-around area added to the north-south road between the new men's dorm and Centennial.

PHONES COMING. According to Herb Engelbrecht, college business manager, the telephone cables for a new campus phone system have been laid, but service hasn't been completed.

Offices of the college president and dean of faculty will be moved to Room 208 in Luther Hall in the near future. As soon as Room 208 is completed, the Rev. Martin Ackermann, development director, will move into the office vacated by President Becker, and admissions counselor Fred Thompson will take over Dr. John Chellevoid's former office.

Yesterday workmen completed the new quarters for Dr. Becker and Dean Chellevoid. Equipment is already in the process of being moved to the new room.

A number of the corridors in Luther Hall also received a coat of paint.

A new sprinkling system has been added to the football field. A public address system is expected to be installed for the opening game.

ROOMS FOR 128 men begin to take shape out of the various stacks of material. Construction is being done by Henkel Const., Mason City.

DORM AHEAD. Lloyd Slock, foreman of Henkel Construction, Mason City, reported, "We're a little ahead of schedule with the new dorm because of an early start on construction and favorable weather throughout the summer."

Late arrival of material may hold up the crew, but outside of that, no difficulties are expected.

"We expect to have the roof on by the first of November, and the building should be completed by April of 1958," Slock stated.

Capacity of the dorm is 128 with a proposed second wing which will raise the total to 250.

In the Fine Arts Center, a new practice pipe organ is scheduled to arrive next month. According to Music Department head Dr. Edwin Liemohn, the new Schlicker organ will be installed in one of the organ practice rooms.

Artist Series Will Open
With Theater Production

By Duane Schroeder

Three leading exponents of the American theater will welcome followers of the Wartburg College Artist Series to the 1957-58 season of outstanding entertainment.

On Oct. 27, Raymond Massey, Agnes Moorehead and Brian Donlevy will star in Norman Corwin's "The Rivalry," a script based on the candidacies of Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas. Corwin, best known for his direction of "Don Juan in Hell," "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" and "John Brown's Body," is predicted to have a production that will be the most discussed presentation of the new season.

Philip Scheuer, of the Los Angeles Times, in his review, stated: "Norman Corwin's play is really quite extraordinary... very closely related to "Don Juan in Hell" and "Inherit the Wind"... and look what happened to them."

SLAVS APPEAR. The leading musical personality of Yugoslavia since 1939, 'cello soloist-conductor Antonio Janigro, will bring the "Solisti di Zagreb" onto the Knights Gym stage Nov. 15. Organized in 1953 the "Solisti di Zagreb" was the sensation of the music festivals at Salzburg, Dubrovnik and Prague.

Competing with the Vienna Philharmonic at Prague, the ensemble gained top critical reviews from the New York Times: "Yugoslavia was represented by a topnotch ensemble calling themselves 'The Soloists of Zagreb'."

Twenty-two year old Philippe Entremont, in America for his third tour, will display his talents at the piano Dec. 1, in the third program of the Series.

SONIC SOUND. Entremont, in his sixth year of concert work, has skyrocketed to the top with his "exciting interpretative as well as sonic" piano playing.

Internationally recognized mezzo-soprano Betty Allen will be featured in the fourth Artist Series program Jan. 21. Miss Allen, just returned to the United States from a successful Caribbean tour, has been soloist in Leonard Bernstein's "Jeremiah Symphony" and was picked for the major role of St. Teresa in Virgil Thompson's and Gertrude Stein's opera "Four Saints in Three Acts." The critics called her performance as soloist with the Hartford Symphony in the Verdi Requiem "completely superlative."

CHORALE HERE. The Roger Wagner Chorale will wind up the series slate March 18. The Chorale, the only American singing group to participate in the London Coronation Festivities, is rated by critics as one of the finest ensembles in the United States.

Versatile in their repertoire, the Chorale has interpreted everything from Gershwin to Handel's "Messiah" in their annual series of performances at the Hollywood Bowl.

Television viewers and radio listeners will remember the Chorale from the singing of the choristers on the 1954 Christmas spectacular of "A Christmas Carol." Movie-goers have heard the group in more than 12 hit films including: "The Egyptian," "Desiree" and "Day of Triumph."

Checks Appear
For 7 Writers

Seven Wartburg journalists broke into the professional scribbling ranks by having articles published in magazines this summer.

The September issue of "This Day," family magazine of the Missouri Synod, contains an article by Duane Schroeder, senior, about Charles Pichelmeyer, head custodian of Wartburg. The story is illustrated by a full-page photo of Pichelmeyer taken by Wayne Krueger, senior.

Leonard Flachman, Marsha Arhart Starck, Bill Melvin, seniors; Larry Achorn, junior; and Jim Roeber, Wartburg spring graduate, wrote and edited the complete July 7 issue of "Lutheran Youth." The magazine, published by the American Lutheran Church, was illustrated by John Solem, junior, and Bob Mayer, sophomore.

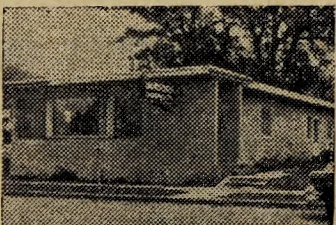

Flachman and Achorn also sold a poem and short story which will appear in a future issue of "Lutheran Youth."

Harold Kurtz, senior, had two articles accepted this summer. One, "Seventeenth Century DP's," will appear in a future issue of "Lutheran Youth" and the other, "The Wartburg—Symbol of Freedom," will appear in "Teen Talk," a publication of Augustana Lutheran Church.

Jaspers New Head Intramural Program

Fred Jaspers of Kensett, has been named to head the Wartburg intramural program this year.

Jaspers, a senior physical education major, was appointed by Student Government officials earlier this week. He will direct a 12-man committee, which will control an expanded program put into effect a year ago.

Flag football action will get the ball rolling next week. Following shortly will be fall tennis and golf, as well as various other functions of the new program.

COACH JO watches as quarterback Jack McClelland and fullback Dan Fritz pound through plays. Today Jo sends his charges through full-scale scrimmages.

Knight Gridders Welcome Big Crop Of Freshmen

Over Fifty Work Out

By Wilbur Flachman

A bumper crop of freshman gridgers casts a new light on the Wartburg College football schedule this fall. Head Coach Norm Johansen, starting his sixth campaign as mentor of the Knights, has 14 lettermen back this season, including an all-veteran backfield.

Featuring a variety of giant-sized linemen and speedy backs, the rookies of black and orange have been displaying the various talents needed to balance the play of the missing Knights.

More than fifty aspirants checked out equipment earlier this week and have been working out twice daily in an effort to round into shape for the initial scrimmage today.

BOSE BACK. Returning for their final season in backfield will be Nelson Bose, Cordell, Okla.; Les Huth, Des Moines; and Ralph Wolken, Marshalltown.

Arnie Brandt, Waverly, and Roger Klingman, Arlington, are the only two senior linemen.

Darwin Fritz, Sumner, fullback; Leon Knitt, Clintonville, Wis., lineman; and Hank Mehan, end from Charles City, are the lone junior returnees.

Veteran sophs expected to carry a big share of the load this season include last year's leading ground gainer for the Knights, Chuck Nichol, halfback from Greene. Another mainstay as a freshman last year was Larry Raper, Fontanelle, returning to bolster the backfield.

MARGHEIM GONE. Jack McClelland, Clarion, is expected to be the top signal caller on this season's squad. McClelland will be called on to plug the gap left by the graduation of Art Margheim, who quarterbacked the Knights for three seasons.

Three sophomore linemen who were letter winners last season are back to make the bid again. Don Sahling, Chicago, Ill.; John Klautt, Waverly; and Ron Krueger, Waupun, Wis., will provide strength up front.

Wartburg will open its nine-game schedule at home Sept. 21 against Parsons. The Knights will be out to shake a 13-game losing streak that has plagued them the past season and a half.

Cross Country Now Recognized

Cross country has been officially recognized as the eighth major sport at Wartburg College. Initiated a year ago, the turf sport, under the direction of track coach Bob Campbell, will be entering the second full season of competition.

Although no letters were awarded last season, Campbell has a veteran squad returning. This includes leading point collector senior Phil Moeller, along with sophomores Bill Riggal and Harold Olsen.

First call to practice was issued for today, with actual workouts slated to begin next week.
